Answer all the questions.

- 1A) List the steps involved in the process of delegation. (2)
- 1B) How do Japanese management practices differ from American management practices? (3)
- 1C) John runs a law firm in Hyderabad. His firm offers valuable financial and legal consultancy services to the clients. The firm has identified 6 vacancies recently and decided to fill all six vacancies by experienced people with a job title 'Finance and Legal Experts'. (5)

Question to be answered:

List the possible methods of recruitment theoretically and mention the preferred method for this case. Also, develop the job description and job specification for this post.

- 2A) Sketch and mention the four strategies resulting from a portfolio matrix. (2)
- 2B) Using a clear diagram, describe the Systems Approach to Staffing and explain its significance in the recruitment/selection process. (3)
- 2C) "Managing by objectives is nothing new here", said commissioner Chidambaram of the metropolis Police Department. "We have always had important objectives toward which everyone in my department strives. Our job is to maintain law and order, firmly but fairly; to protect human lives and property; and to be the conscience and spirit of the general welfare of the millions of people who call our city home. Everyone in this department knows these objectives. Every man and woman knows that he or she must work toward them and that, if they do not, they will be replaced. I recognise that in a manufacturing concern you can measure objectives by profits, sales costs, and product output. We can't, of course, do that, for we are a service operation. But this does not mean that we are not managing by objectives. Ask anyone in my department!" (5)

Questions to be answered:

- i) Is Commissioner Chidambaram engaging in managing by objectives? What, if anything, is missing? Explain with the help of MBO flow chart.
- ii) Develop the quantitative objectives in any three key result areas by referring to Peter F Drucker's philosophy on "Management By Objectives" in relation to the above case.

- 3A) List ANY FOUR principles of organizing as suggested by Lyndall Urwick. Explain two principles briefly. (2)
- 3B) Radhika opens a jewellery showroom in Jaipur after completing a course in jewellery designing. She has employed 11 persons in her showroom. For greater productivity, she divides the work into small tasks, and each employee is trained to perform his/her specialized job. The sales persons are allowed to close a deal with a buyer by giving a maximum of 10% discount, whereas the decision to give any further discount rests with Radhika as the final authority. In the earlier days of starting the business, five of her employees were asked to put in extra hours of work. In return, she had promised to give them a special incentive within a year. Therefore, after six months when the business was doing well, she awarded a cash bonus to each of these employees to honour her commitment. However, when it comes to settling the conflicts among her employees, she tends to be more biased towards her female employees. (4)

In the context of the above case answer the following:

- i) Identify and explain the three principles of management that are being applied by Radhika in this case.
- ii) Identify and explain the principle of management which is being violated by Radhika.
- 3C) Explain briefly the "Planning Process" with the help of a common example running through the 8 steps. (4)
- 4A) The core committee of 'Revels' as well as 'Techtatva' prepare several budgets and submit to the university through proper channels. Briefly discuss the different types of budgets relevant in the above case, with proper examples. (3)
- 4B) List the sources and methods of recruitment. (2)
- 4C) Mr. Raman came with a good proposal and discussed it with his six male friends. Under the changing social, economic and political environments, these seven entrepreneurs would like to start a firm to manufacture copper wire in an innovative method. All the seven entrepreneurs have an engineering background in Mechanical and Manufacturing and are financially sound. They are having adequate knowledge in designing and manufacturing aspects. They are planning to raise the required capital from 3 different sources: (i) promoter's capital (ii) loan from banks (iii) general public in the form of shares and debentures, and, wishing to register their firm as a public limited company. (5)

Questions to be answered:

- i) Entrepreneurs can be classified on different criteria. List any four criteria these seven entrepreneurs can be classified as observed in the case.
- ii) With the help of a block diagram, explain briefly the steps involved in creating and starting the business venture.
- iii) Differentiate an Intrapreneur from an Entrepreneur
- 5A) Shivamaya Manufacturing is a leading producer of electronic components in Asia. It aims to showcase the effectiveness of various control mechanisms in managing and improving its operations. The company uses automated sensors and monitoring devices throughout the production line to track the speed of assembly, detect potential defects, and measure the utilization of machinery. If deviations from the standard operating (4) procedures are detected, immediate adjustments can be made to prevent production delays or defects. After shipping products to customers, company actively engages with its users through customer surveys, online reviews, and direct communication channels. As a protocol, before launching any new line of microprocessors, company conducts thorough market research to understand the demand and availability of raw materials. This approach helps the company adjust its production schedules and resource allocation in anticipation of potential supply chain challenges.

Questions to be answered:

As a control enthusiast,

i) cite lines from the case, to identify the control systems used by Shivamaya Manufacturing and explain briefly

ii) Add your one recommendation to each of the control systems which will be of value addition for Shivamaya Manufacturing

- 5B) In an organization, one of the departmental managers is inflexible and once he makes a decision, he does not like to be contradicted. As a result, employees always feel they are under stress and they take the least initiative and fear to express their opinions and problems before the manager. (2)
